

Mangomindsm for Consultants

Faster, more efficient document sharing and collaboration with external project teams.

♦ Communicate critical information faster.

Save contracts, proposals and other projects documents on the Mangomind drive just like you would any Windows document. Invited users can instantly access the information.

♦ Collaborate with project teams more efficiently.

Centralize access to all project documents. Team members and clients can always work on the most recent documents.

♦ Reduce the cost of project communication.

Reduce overnight mail, faxing, and courier charges. Eliminate email distribution list coordination.

♦ Be more productive while away from the office.

Work on documents offline and automatically synchronize the information when you connect back to the Internet.

♦ Secure communication.

Establish secure, convenient communication with your clients without compromising the privacy of your Intranet, document management system or virtual private network.

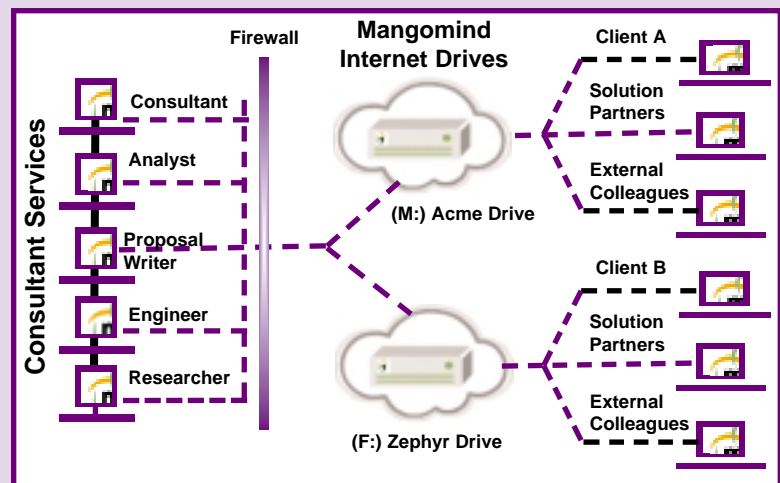

About Mangosoft

Mangosoft delivers Internet business-enabling software solutions that make external business communication and collaboration a powerful strategic advantage. Through its Mangomind Internet business file sharing service, Mangosoft allows business collaborators to leverage the communication power of the Internet to make smarter, faster business decisions.

Mangomind consolidates project resources, providing instant access to critical information from anywhere in the world.

Mangomind lets consultants rapidly communicate important information to discrete client project teams.

Consultants can create Mangomind Internet drives for each of their clients and allow project team members to rapidly access proposals, contracts, updates and other documents. Information can be easily edited, copied and stored just like working on any Windows application.
